7.1. For Customers:

- Bolero Music offers a list of Artists from which the Customer can purchase from one (1) to fifty (50) Card(s) per Campaign within the limit of the Artist's available stock.
- The Client can consult the page of an Artist and evaluate the potential of the latter by using the information proposed by the Artist and produced by the Index.
- The Card (s) purchased by the Customer can be viewed from their dashboard. The Site specifies the Perks to which the Customer is eligible according to the number of Cards he has for each Artist, and only if he is the first owner of the Card. Indeed, if the Card is traded and sold via the secondary market, the second and following owners are not eligible for Perks.
- The Client, depending on the number of Cards held for each Artist, is eligible to obtain the Perks announced by the Artist.
- The Site provides the contact information of a Client to the Artist if and only if he is a member of the Fanbase. The Site has no role and holds no responsibility for the delivery of Perks. The allocation and delivery in time and quantity of Perks is the responsibility of the Artist and his teams.

7.2. For Artists:

- Artists have access to a module called "Backstage" in which they can: edit their Artist page information, launch and configure Campaigns, consult the Clients who are members of their Fanbase, consult their statistics measured by the Index.
- Artists can choose the number of Cards to be issued within the framework of a Campaign within the limit of the available stock defined annually or bi-annually by Bolero Music.
- In order for the Artist to assign or deliver the perks(s) for which the Client is eligible, the Site communicates and makes downloadable the Client's contact information to the Artist through the Artist's "Backstage" interface.
- The Perks defined by the Artist can be modified, deleted by the Artist if and only they have been delivered or consumed by the Eligible Customers. The Artist assumes all the responsibility of attributing the Perks to the Customers of his Fanbase or of announcing the impossibility of attributing them before modification or deletion.
- To collect the result of the sale of his Cards, the Artist must create a Stripe account via the “connect” procedure set up by Bolero Music. The Artist collects the financial result of his sale directly into his Stripe account.
